bio

Chad Schoen received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Jazz Performance with a concentration in Jazz Guitar from the University of Toledo. While attending the University of Toledo, he studied Jazz Guitar, Classical Guitar, Jazz Bass, Classical and Jazz Piano, arranging, and composition. Chad received the Art Tatum and Charles Z. Moore scholarships while attending the University of Toledo.

As a graduate student, Chad worked in the Audio and Visual Department, where he ran live sound, recorded live performances, edited video and audio, and taught courses.

After graduating, Chad was hired as an Adjunct Professor at the University of Toledo to teach Advanced Recording Techniques and Intro to Recording.

Aside from teaching within his private studio located in his hometown of Toledo, OH, Chad is an Adjunct Professor of Music at Lourdes University in Sylvania, OH, the Music Director at the School of Rock in Perrysburg, OH, and an Adjunct Professor of Music in applied guitar at Spring Arbor University.

Chad is an avid freelancer within southeast Michigan and northwest Ohio, where he truly enjoys playing in the pit of musicals as a multi-instrumentalist for local school districts, community programs, jazz combos, and choral ensembles. Chad has shared the stage performing with renowned musicians, including Tad Weed, Howard Alden, Vic Juris, Mike Stern, Mike Schofield, and Gilad Heckselman. Chad hopes to continue to nurture a love for music in his students by providing a dedicated, high-quality, and caring environment to allow exploration of potential.
