

Spring Arbor UNIVERSITY

grow deep roots

A large crowd of young people is gathered outdoors, likely at a sports event or festival. In the foreground, a man with glasses and a black bucket hat is looking off to the side. He is wearing a grey t-shirt and a blue and white striped scarf. To his left, another person's hands are clasped together. In the bottom right corner, a yellow object with a blue logo is partially visible. The background shows a chain-link fence and more people.

THE CORE OF YOUR EDUCATION

1

CORE 100: Life In Community

This is the foundational SAU experience. A weekend at SAU's Michindoh Conference Center offers a chance to unplug, explore, reflect, and bond.

2

CORE 200: Christ, Culture, & Diversity

Take a deeper look at America's economic and social disparities and gain vital perspectives on a weekend trip to Chicago or Detroit.

CORE is a series of thought-provoking courses that serve as the foundation of your education at SAU. It is a part of the broader mission to connect students to culture, community, and the world. What better way to learn than to make the world your classroom, and have unforgettable shared experiences?

GROW DEEP IN YOUR

Twice a week, our student body gathers for Chapel where together we worship the Lord through prayer and song before hearing messages from passionate speakers from across the country.

Outside of Chapel, students share and experience Christ's love through classroom discussions, spiritual life events, student ministry organizations, and late-night worship sessions.

LIVING IN COMMUN

#1 BEST MICHIGAN
CHRISTIAN DORMS

At SAU, our residence halls are more than just a living space for our students; they're a place to build community and relationships with your floormates. There are three main residence halls our new students stay in — Gainey Hall or Lowell Hall for women, and Andrews Hall for men. Each with their own events and traditions, our residence halls encourage deepening your roots in relationships while living in community with one another.
